Translation for free copy of V4 :)

Posted by da8ivr - 2008/01/31 19:55

Hi there, I'm looking for help with translating this mambot into as many languages as possible, do you think you could help me?

please contact us before starting, as some languages may have already been started

I will give a free copy with updates for life to anybody who can help as payment, and will also add the language files for anybody to download for free, so anybody can add it on their system free of charge.

To add a language file to your Mambot simply download the files from below of the language you need, and replace the XML file you installed

`yoursite.com/mambots/system/vmrss_v4.xml`

Then all controls will display in your language.

You can also add in your name and details so people can see where the info came from, to help advertise your awareness in the Joomla/Virtuemart community.

This is the text that needs translating

<http://www.virtuemartfrooglefeed.com/vmrss/languages/Romanian-froogle-4.0.2.doc>

That's a word document saved from Word 2003, if you have any problems opening it, please let me know.

You can right click on the link above to save target as.

Please just replace the Romanian text with the language you are offering to do.

Here is a list of languages we need,

Green ones we need,

Brown is in process,

red ones we have.

(if you want to offer for a language in process please do, as we find many people offer but then don't do it).

Hi,

I would like to help translate in Cantonese or Chinese (both simplified and traditional characters). Should I send you the translation directly or post here? Please let me know.

thanks

Hi Gwang

If you could hold on for a few days, as somebody else has also asked to do this language.

Im away as of the 12th - 14th of Feb, so by the time i get back if the other person hasnt done it, you have the job there :)

Kindest regards

Ian

Just had an email from the other person saying they will do the Japanese instead, so you are more than welcome to produce the Chinese or Mandarin version :)

Could you do both?

I sure can translate it into both Chinese and Mandarin, as these two are the same language, just different names. I think you meant to say Chinese simplified and traditional characters (the latter is used in Taiwan and Hong Kong)

I'll send you my translation soon!

Thanks!!

Hi JJ

I have a massive backlog of work here at the moment, and clients crying for it all to be done.

If you can convert the XML file its self, that would be superb, as i can just quickly check it and get it live.

If you dont know how to do the XML, please wait for a few weeks, as i just dont have the time to convert it myself and add it, so i have no way of checking it. But if you can convert the XML, i can check it very quickly and get it working for you.

All the best
Ian

I tried to open it with Windows XML-Notepad and got the following error:

Re: Translation for free copy of V4 :)

Posted by JJ100 - 2008/04/17 10:09

Error loading: C:\Users|.....vmrss_4.xml
'=' is an unexpected token. The expected token is ';' . Line 159, position 317.

I can use another editor, I just thought I let you know the error.

The translated XML file with the German language will be ready in around 4 to 5 days.

Regards, JJ

Re: Translation for free copy of V4 :)

Posted by da8iwr - 2008/04/17 11:19

If you open it in Notepad2 <http://www.flos-freeware.ch/notepad2.html> it will open perfectly, or something like dreamweaver.

The error it is showing is part of a URL typed into the XML doc something like `category_id=4&category_parent_id=2` its the bit that says

Its the charactor that starts red causing the issue, so not really a formating problem, its just getting confused.

Its also not a true XML, as in a RSS feed type, so its not designed to really work to be opened that way.

Ian, the xml file is translated to German. I have to check everything for errors again tonight.

Should I send it to your email address ? The one that is shown in the xml file ?

I will double check the translation in the virtuemart as soon I have it on my website, just to make sure everything works.

Hi,

thanks for the reply. Hope you had a good time at Wembly!

I downloaded the Word doc from the first post (I think) that had a series of statements followed by a Rumanian (?) translation.

I have been working on translating that.

Can you please let me know if that is correct?

Thanks

Sorry Martin, the directories that you tried to upload the error.txt and your FrooglefeedSwahili.doc was read only, so its failed. This was also why you couldnt upload the Avatar.

I have made them both writable, if you could add the file again, and also try and add your Avatar, it should work perfect :)

All the best

MCM thanks mate,
OK if you go through the full buy process on this site, buying V4, and when you click on PapPal, just click on cancel or what ever it is to get back to this site, which will put a cancelled mark on the invoice. I will then manually upgrade you to completed, so you can download the mambot, it also allows me to keep track of the order that way as well :)

Kindest regards
Ian
